Finally, the spokesman said, "Persons desiring puppies or dogs under this program are invited to phone us at any time to arrange an appointment for viewing the animals."

"All we can say, beyond this, is, please."

"Yule Dog"

"WHAT DID I DO?" asks poor Jill whose Christmas is looking mighty bleak. A friend for all seasons but particularly for the holidays, Jill just wants a home, someone to love, and security. She is trying so hard to please and, with a ribbon "in her hair" she will be delivered as a "cuddly present" on Christmas Day.

Two hook-ups for the new sewer system were made noon, Wednesday after the city declared the system ready and operational Monday. These were the residence of H.S. Weston, 111 Favre Street, a connection made by the Bay Plumbing Co., and the home of Mrs. Connie Vergets on Perron Street, a hook-up accomplished by Charleston Laddier, Plumbing Contractor of Waveland. The proposed extensions will be by vote of 100 percent government grant. The recently completed system, funded by the Economic Development Administration and the Environmental Protection Agency, was conducted on a 50-50 split, government to city, basis.

In a local department store, could it be that another item is about to be added to his Christmas list?

Fire department stages annual doll, toy drive

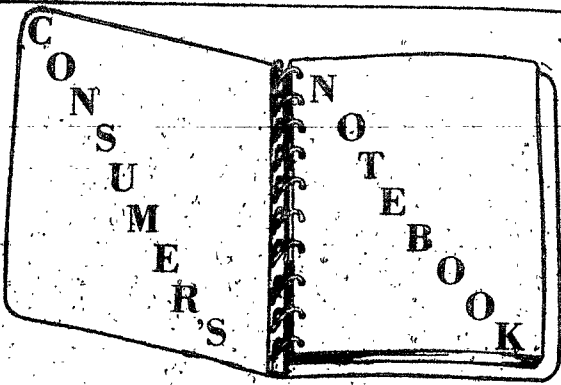

The Bay St. Louis fire department is now staging its third annual doll and toy drive to benefit needy children at Christmas.

Useable toys and cash donations will be accepted at the fire station, located on Old Spanish Trail.

According to Fire Chief Robert Gavagnie, cash donations may also be sent to the Hancock Bank Doll and Toy Fund. He said the United Way of Hancock County has already contributed $200 to the fund.

The drive will continue through Dec. 20.

Skates, tricycles, dolls, toy cars and trucks are the things that make Christmas special for young children, but those popular playthings can also cause some serious injuries.

According to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, 150,000 people a year receive hospital emergency room treatment for injuries associated with toys. Falls are the most frequent type of accident, but serious problems often result from children swallowing small parts or putting tiny toys in their noses or ears, from gas-powered or flammable playthings and toys with sharp edges.

The Safety Commission has banned more than 1,500 hazardous toys from the market, but each year 5,000 new toys become available to consumers. Despite the efforts of manufacturers, retailers and inspectors, it is impossible to examine every single toy, and therefore, shoppers should be aware of toy safety when making those important Christmas purchases.

Buy toys that suit the skills and abilities of each child. Avoid toys that are too complex for youngsters.

Explain to the child how to use his new toys, and always try to supervise youngsters while they play.

To report a hazardous toy or toy-related injury, contact the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, D.C. 20207.

Gex named marine counsel

Lucien M. Gex, Waveland, has been named attorney for the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission, replacing State Sen. Sandy Stecker who resigned last November.

Ray Bordages and Ducre Bourgeois, both of Hancock County, made the motion to employ Gex at a commission meeting Monday. There was no public discussion of any other candidate, and Clyde Besarge, Pascagoula, who abstained from voting was the only commission member not in favor of the motion.

The new attorney is expected to be paid a retainer of $250 per month, in addition to other fees for court appearances.

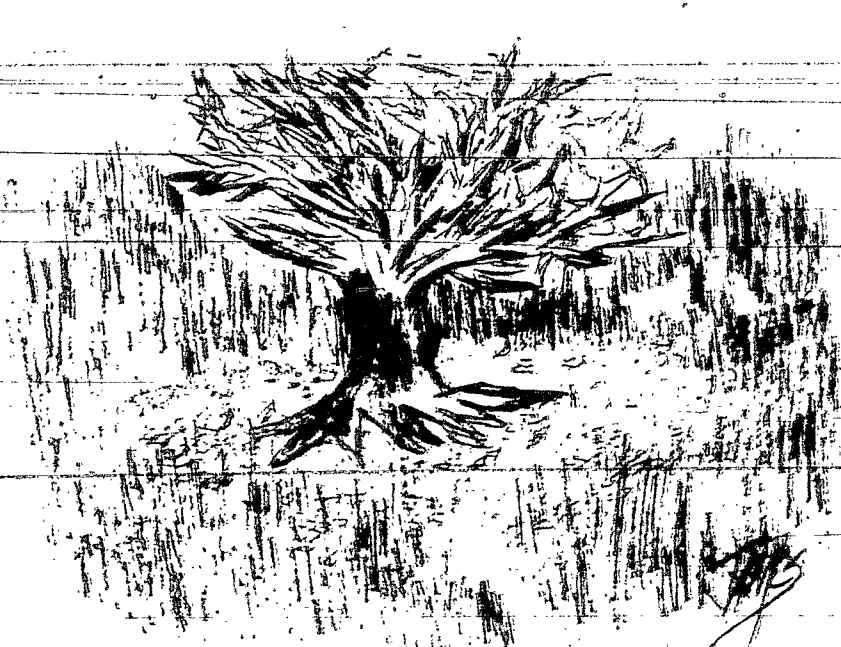

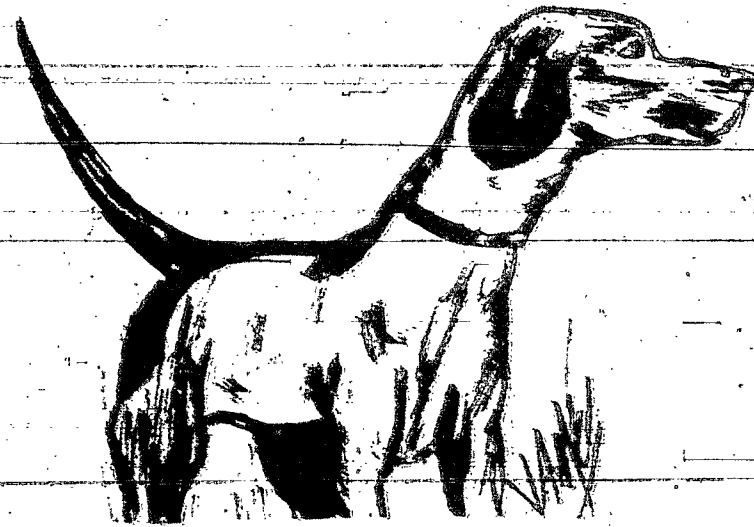

Gex, 42, has served as attorney for the city of Waveland since 1965.

Garden club plans hat show

Members of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club will provide their own entertainment in the form of a hat show at their Dec. 11 meeting.

Mrs. Herman Mazarakis, first vice president and program chairman, has completed the following schedule for the 2 p.m. meeting.

Class I, Deck the Halls—Go all out in decorating a large hat. Emphasis is on natural materials; but bows, bangles, etc. may be used.

Class II, Little Drummer Boy—This small chapeau should be just as gay as the tune it symbolizes. Fresh and or dried materials are acceptable and accessories may be used.

Class III, Partridge in a Pear Tree—Unique is the byword for this category. Actually, the more unusual the better.

Class IV, Silver Bells—Bells may or may not be used for the Christmas corsage. Judging will be based upon originality in use of natural materials, with or without accessories.

Mrs. Mazarakis said judges will be selected from members not entering the hat show. She said there will be a Christmas tree, but members are not to bring gifts for exchange. They are however asked to bring a potted plant which are traditionally distributed to Senior Citizens as part of the Garden Therapy project.

Photography is next field for active junior artist

James H. Johnston, Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnston of 303 Ballentine Street, Bay St. Louis, a sophomore at Bay Senior High School, is looking for a good, used, and relatively inexpensive 35 millimeter camera.

"People with an artistic eye can often see things that others miss. I see this, and that, but have no way of recording those quick glimpses of nature's beauty, or 'instant event'."

"I have decided to study photography as a hobby to assist me in recording these things I may want to reproduce in more detail at a later date," Johnston said this week.

A "natural" artist, lacking many of the finer material requirements for portrayal of ideas, young Johnston is a determined youth who is tackling life with verve.

A member of the Tiger Band, he - like most artistically inclined people - favors English and music as formal study subjects. Having an eye on a possible music major further down in his academic achievement, he is also a member of the Bay High chorus, and is teaching himself to play several instruments apart from the trombone he utilizes in band.

"His father, a commercial fisherman, owner and operator of the 52-foot shrimp trawler Lisa Ann, works out of Bayou Caddy and Gulfport. James has worked the vessel during summer but now favors the "land lubber's" life.

"When you want to go somewhere, it is a little difficult if you are fishing on a boat way out in the Gulf," the ex-deck hand allows.

Story and Photos by Neville R. Jacob

James Johnston

Possessing a liking for fishing, non commercial and swimming, he works at Little Italy to support his growing number of activities and stash a little cash away in the bank.

The savings, he says, are towards the purchase of a car.

"It is the only way to travel," Johnston says.

Having just put $150 of hard earned cash into a new Schwinn Varsity 10-Speed bicycle, which was promptly stolen from outside his place of employment, it is not difficult to understand his philosophy.

"There is a $100 reward out on 'Bak Bita,'" he said. The reward was put up, very graciously, by his employer. (By the way, the Bita is dark grey blue and bears the serial number 63K 61444).

Chess feature joins up, Yule creations sought

We welcome a new columnist this week, Ray Wilson. Wilson contacted us a few weeks ago inquiring if we would be interested in carrying a chess challenge. When we heard he intended to create his own challenges and provide solution, we agreed.

Starting with an easy problem, for openers, he informs us his intentions are to "get tough," and issue challenges involving several moves, and the employment of more than one piece.

Our present size limitations are caused by us being included in a single press run. As the Sunday issue of the Echo grows in size and stature we will be given our own, more worthy place in the sun, and hopefully become non-dependent.

We are in possession of several other local features, now being considered as weekly events, but will continue to welcome any and all suggestions fitting into the theme of our masthead.

This week we ask that schools under taking creative Christmas promotions inside the classrooms "give us a holler" and we will try to cover. Again, it is the effort the "kiddlets" expend that makes the feature worth while, if we can just appreciate the imaginative picture they see through their eyes.

Ah, Fall, lovely Fall:
One Waveland youth, coming upon a friend diligently raking his large front yard, was all shook up. "Good grief. The leaves! The work! What's your dad giving you for doing all this?"

It's what he'll give me if I DON'T do it that keeps me working so hard!" came the quick response.

One Bay area newcomer, already thinking of spring planting, asked an Old Timer how he should water his garden once he gets it in.

Said the O.T., "Plant your onions 'n' 'taters together. Only have to worry about the waterin' until the plants come up. Then the onions make the eyes of yer 'taters water an' yer worries are all washed away."

Maybe that's the same Old Timer who met one of the new NASA residents the other day. Seems she asked the O.T., "Just how hot does it really get 'down here during the summer?"

Replied the O.T., "Well, I have to make sure my chickens have ice water during July and August, or they'll lay only hard-boiled eggs."

And a new member of the BWYC was overheard recently. "Any sailing events scheduled for today?"

"Oh, no! Everything's cancelled. 'Barometer's falling!"

"Well, f'gosh-sakes. Let's get it nailed up again, and do a better job of it this time!"

One Bay Jr. High miss swears her mom can tell the future with cards. "She can tell me instantly what my future holds during the next six weeks, after only one glance at my report card."

Overheard a story about the last Pullet column:

Did you read about the mommy so set in her ways that her little boy always got "no" for an answer?

Yep! Makes me think of my dad whenever I need the car. He's just like a horse... Always saying "Neigh"!!!

One B-W electrician was shocked the other day. Told the lady her lights were out because of a short circuit.

"Well," she huffed, "Don't just tell me about it. Get busy and lengthen it!"

Hear about the defendant hauled into court this week for car theft? Claimed he found the car by the cemetery, so naturally assumed the owner no longer needed it!

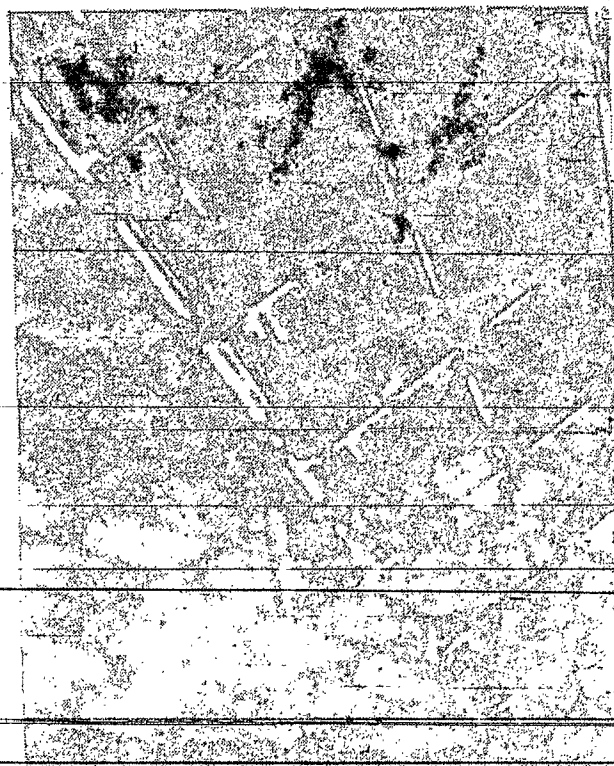

The waitress in one U.S. 90 restaurant asked the customer, "How d'you want your coffee, black or blonde?"

"Well, black's my usual, but either way sounds better than red, gray or streaked!"

? ?????????????????????????? ? Contest No. 4

"Well, where/what is it?"

"Well, where-what is it?" will portray a different, well known area scene, or article, location or item for each contest. Each will be presented in disguised photographic form, with the complete description being provided upon completion of each contest. Clues, in the form of poetic verse, will be given, with additional lines being added each week the contest location or item remains unsolved.

It takes the "Where" to win as well as the "What"

We intended Puzzle No. 3 to be a little harder than its predecessor but, right off the bat, Charlie Staehle of 129 Melody Lane, studied the clue, waggled the picture around, figured the angles (and probably just plain guessed), and came up strong with the right answer, the front of Our Lady of the Gulf Church in Bay St. Louis. A letter to Staehle, complete with passes to the Star Theatre and our congratulations is in the mail. Puzzle No. 4 starts today. First entries to this will be opened at noon on Thursday, Dec. 11. 3. Employees of the Sea Coast Echo or their families are ineligible. All entrants must be over 18 years old.

4. Names of winners will be published in subsequent issues.

The talents of several creative distaff members of the community (and surrounds) have come together in Bay St. Louis, in a unique collection of hand made dolls, Christmas decorations, and plain "old fashioned" gift memorabilia.

Utilizing more modern patterns, materials and techniques in the production of these "classics," the various "manufacturers" have improved on the originals in fine finish, variation, and color. The overall concept remains unchanged, however, and walking through the "finely displayed works" is like walking through the pages of American history.

Particularly appropriate in this year of Bicentennial celebration, the collection is being made available through the auspices of the Corner Boutique on Main Street, Bay St. Louis, Sunday Echoes happenchanced on the display in connection with other aspects of its personnel's operation of the work and the creative drive involved in its completion and presentation.

It is with this viewpoint we present this artistic "industry."

Pick a pooch for Xmas invites Humane Society

By Neville R. Jacob

Pick a Pooch now and have it delivered Christmas Day, complete with ribbon, card, smile, and the best wishes of the Bay-Waveland Humane Society.

Staging a determined effort to place as many inhabitants of local animal shelters in homes for the holidays, the society says it will deliver any animal selected between now and Christmas directly to the home on Christmas Day.

"This is our way of wishing 'Season's Greetings' to our charges," a spokesman said today, adding, "our happy Christmas comes of knowing we have done our best for these unfortunate animals."

The "Christmas" dogs will be delivered with a ribbon around their necks and be accompanied by a card.

Backing the program, the Food Center on Second Street, Bay St. Louis, is donating a bag of dog food to accompany each placement, to prevent intended recipients from guessing ahead of time of the "intended addition to the family."

Further Prima's Pets and Pet Supplies on Washington Street at Railroad Avenue, Bay St. Louis, is donating a flea collar for each dog to help the

"Whenever an animal is somehow forced into the service of men, every one of us must be concerned for any suffering it bears on that account. Not one of us may permit any preventable pain to be inflicted even though the responsibility for that pain is not ours...No one may shut his eyes and think that the pain, which is therefore not visible to him, is non-existent. Let no one make the burden of his responsibility light."

animals avoid giving cause for complaint.

Too, in the Christmas stocking, comes care books and coupons from Purina, and a health standard presentation.

As with all placements, the animals are "let out" on a "return if not suited basis," a term permitting their return to the Humane Society should family circumstances alter or the adoption "just will not work out."

"Our animals are not too demanding. They just ask for a little love and attention, and in return guarantee a life of loyalty and love in return," the Humane Society spokesman said.

Adoption and "reservation" days are scheduled for 2 to 5 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 14 and 15, and 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., December 23 and 24, at the Waveland Animal Shelter on Spruce Street.

Available at this time, apart from Jill, are: a large variety of puppies, a small black and white collie, a mixed wire terrier, a gun-shy pedigree bird dog, a mature watch dog, and a host of other home seeking hopefuls.

"All we can say, beyond this, is, please."

"Yule Dog"

"WHAT DID I DO?" asks poor Jill whose Christmas is looking mighty bleak. A friend for all seasons but particularly for the holidays, Jill just wants a home, someone to love, and security. She is trying so hard to please and, with a ribbon "in her hair" she will be delivered as a "cuddly present" on Christmas Day.

"First there was an explosion, then I saw a ball of fire, then I dove facedown on the settee," Mrs. Ella Cuevas, 305 Citizen Street, said as she recounted last Saturday night when a bolt of lightning caused part of a large oak tree to come hurtling through her bathroom window. Here, Mrs. Cuevas shows what's left of her shredded window screen. She said lightning struck the oak around 8 p.m., leaving bark stripped from the highest branches down to a three foot expanse of charred trunk. The force of the strike sent strips of bark and branches flying into a vacant lot on Washington Street a block away.

Shoppers still money conscious

Santa in good health, despite economic ills

By CAROLE LANGE

The consensus of opinion of four area merchants interviewed by the Echo is that despite depression, recession, inflation, stagflation or whatever noun can be attributed to the current state of the nation's economy, Christmas is still a time for giving.

Bill Miller, manager of TG&Y in Bay St. Louis, said "even though people are more money-conscious this year and spend more time shopping for a bargain, they are still spending for Christmas and have been doing so since August."

Otasco manager Ron Griffin said his sales "are up 10-15 percent over last year's" and Noel Fuentes, Western Auto manager, said "Our customers are buying better merchandise this year and paying more for it."

When asked what the biggest selling item in the toy line was, all the merchants agreed that Baby Bhataway, a doll that crawls in forwards and reverse, was by far the most asked for and most purchased item.

Melvin Howard, manager of TG&Y in Waveland, said the dolls were sold as quickly as he could stock them. He said shoppers began early this year, "in October, when television-advertising for toys started."

Cathy Izzana adds more items to the shelves of a local department store to ensure that Santa's sleigh will be full on Christmas Eve.

Miller said "ride-em" toys, including bicycles, tricycles, Big Wheels, and wagons proved to be fast-selling items and agreed that mechanical dolls, "those that hug, crawl and eat" were on many shopper's Christmas lists.

According to Griffin, an indication that people are spending more in his store is that many shoppers are purchasing "firearms." "In the past, firearms have been considered a luxury item, but we've sold a lot of them this year," he said.

According to the four store managers, many adults will find small electrical appliances under their Christmas trees.

Fuentes reported impressive sales of crock pots, toasters, and deep fat fryers, while Howard said "Mr. Coffee is definitely our No. 1 seller in the small appliance line."

Miller and Griffin agreed that crock pots are selling as well this year as they did in 1974.

Ford Parker, co-manager of TG&Y in Bay St. Louis, said adults especially purchase small appliances costing less than $30.

It's obvious that money is being spent this Christmas, but how are shoppers paying for the items they purchase?

"We're having a lot of credit card purchases this year," Miller said, "in fact, it's rare that a person pays in cash anymore."

Griffin said customers began shopping for Christmas gifts in September and added "this has been the biggest lay-away season I've ever experienced."

"I think shoppers are spending more than in 1974, but of course our costs have risen proportionately," he said. Miller said he noticed most people shop with a companion. "I guess they like to have someone's opinion before they make a purchase."

All of those interviewed said they did not notice many children doing Christmas shopping. From that, the conclusion might be drawn that ice-cream stick pencil holders, painstakingly drawn handprints, and gayly decorated pin cushions will be opened by many appreciative parents on Christmas morning.

Waveland begins sewer tie-ins, considers HUD grant for expansion

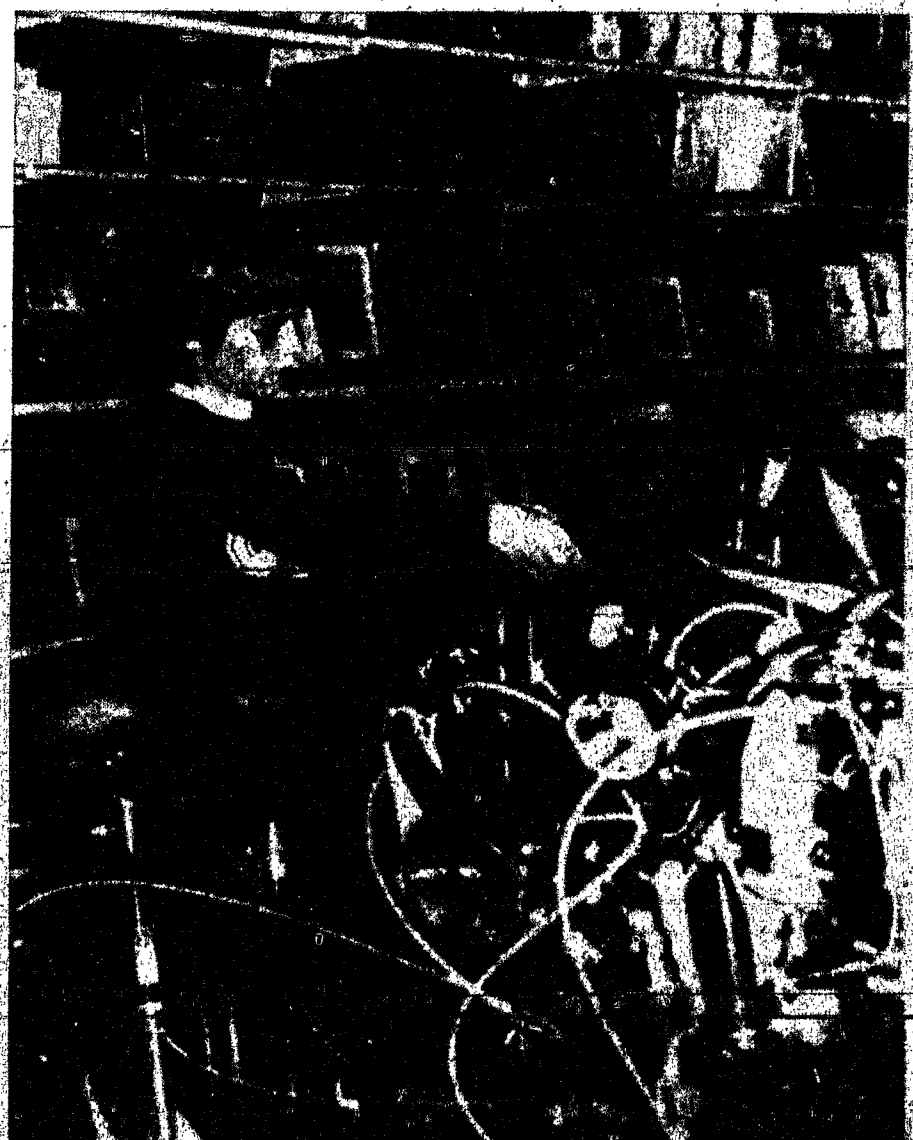

The City of Waveland has made pre-application to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for a grant of $304,400 under HUD's Community Development Program, to expand its new sewer and water system.

If approved, the proposal will provide sewerage service to property owners on Spruce, Longo, Fayard, Shipp, Carroll, and Amar Streets, and Adrienne Court. An extension of service to approximately 250 persons.

The water proposal will result in the drilling of a new water well, and permit construction of a 100,000 gallon water tower on the north side of the tracks.

Two hook-ups for the new sewer system were made noon, Wednesday after the city declared the system ready and operational Monday. These were the residence of H.S. Weston, 111 Favre Street, a connection made by the Bay Plumbing Co., and the home of Mrs. Connie Vergetts on Perron Street, a hook-up accomplished by Charleston Laddier, Plumbing Contractor of Waveland.

The proposed extensions will be by route of 100 percent government grant. The recently completed system, funded by the Economic Development Administration and the Environmental Protection Agency, was conducted on a 60-40 split, government to city, basis.

Hints for Santa

Dennis Dear, eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Dear, 244 Levee Road Avenue, checks out the merchandise in a local department store. Could it be that number three is about to be added to his Christmas list?

Children without immunizations are unprotected, state doctors warn

In the early sixties, parents of young children could remember the empty swimming pools, the iron lungs and the crippled child in nearly every school - all grim reminders of the nationwide polio epidemic a decade before.

So in 1963, better than 94 percent of all the nation's preschool children were immunized against the potential cripple and killer. Public health officials said that was a comfortable margin.

But in 1973, according to a

Christmas seal history traced to mid-1800's

Mail carriers will deliver billions of bundles of Christmas cards this year. Four billion, in fact and millions of the envelopes will be sprinkled with delightful drawings - Christmas Seals designed by children.

Cards for the holiday season are a cherished custom in this country. Today, 95 percent of all American families exchange cards. Usually 60 or 70 cards are sent per family. The President of the United States has a list of 40,000.

The printed card tradition began in the mid-1800's in London when a museum director asked an artist friend to print his holiday message. Soon after the Christmas card migrated to America.

The custom of Christmas Seals stretches almost as far back as cardsending. At the turn of the century, Emily Bissell in America borrowed an idea from Denmark, drew the first design for a Christmas Seal, and started a PREVIEW PARTICIPANTS—several hundred religious workers from throughout Mississippi were in attendance at a special preview of the 1976 January Bible Study emphasis held recently at Mississippi College.

Among those attending were Mike Chandler, Prentiss and Mrs. Avis Gibbons of Waveland. The day-long session was for those who will be leading the study in Hosea and the youth book "God-Man Alive!" in their respective churches in January. The preview was sponsored by the college's Department of Religious Education in cooperation with the Sunday School Department of the Mississippi Baptist convention.

Star gazers may witness 'light show' Dec. 13-15

If the sky is clear on the nights of Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Dec. 13-15, alert observers may see many more meteors or shooting stars than are normally seen, according to Dr. William E. Hughes, chairman of the physics and astronomy department at the University of Southern Mississippi.

"During this time," said Dr. Hughes, "the earth will pass into a swarm of meteoroids which astronomers refer to as the Geminids, since their paths appear to originate in the constellation of Gemini." The earth's passage through this swarm is an annual event, and an average of 50 to 60 meteors per hour are expected to be visible if weather conditions are suitable.

The best time to look will be during the early morning hours on Sunday, Dec. 14, added Dr. Hughes.

"A meteoroid has an average weight of less than one ounce, and it burns upon entering the earth's atmosphere at a height of from 60 to 80 miles," explained Dr. Hughes. "This burning results in the phenomenon which is usually referred to as a shooting star."

"Occasionally an exceptionally bright meteor is produced by a large meteoroid. These are called fireballs or bolides, and are relatively rare."

"Some fireballs are visible in broad daylight; others leave luminous trails behind them which may persist for up to half an hour. Sometimes they break up in mid-air with explosions that can be heard from the ground."

Enrollments pass six million mark under current GI Bill

Enrollments for training under the current GI Bill passed the six million mark in September, three months into the 10th year of its existence, Merlyn J. Cook, Assistant Director for Jackson Regional Office, reported today.

He noted that during the 12-year life of the World War II GI Bill, 7.8 million, slightly more than half of those eligible, received training. The Korean Conflict GI Bill attracted 2.4 million participants, or 43 percent of the total veterans, during its 12½-year history.

Cook asserted that more than 55 percent of the 10.8 million eligible veterans and servicemen have trained under the current bill. Among 7.7 million Vietnam-era veterans, four million—60 percent—have participated. Included were 641,822 who trained while still on active duty.

At the end of September, there were 1.6 million persons in training under the GI Bill. This is 365,000 more than were in training at the same time last year. A record 2.7 million trained under the bill during fiscal year 1975, Cook added.

Last available figures for Mississippi, under the current GI Bill, shows more than 14,500 currently in training. The percent of participation among Mississippi's 55,000 Vietnam veterans is currently running slightly higher than the national figure.

Of the six million who have trained since June 1, 1966, 3.3 million were in colleges, 464,000 participated in job-training programs. Cook said the VA is continuing a special outreach effort among 80,000 women participants of the current bill who may be eligible for a special retroactive payment. Women veterans who were married and attended school under the GI Bill between June 1, 1966, and October 24, 1972, may be eligible for about $30 for each month they were in training while married.

The special payment equalizes benefits with those received by married male veterans who trained under the bill during this period. Women veterans may file claims for the money at any VA regional office before July 1, 1976.

Fertilizer supplies appear adequate for '76

Fertilizer supplies for 1976 appear adequate with the possible exception of nitrogen. The nitrogen supply will depend upon the supply of natural gas, which is used in producing nitrogen fertilizer.

Fertilizer prices are lower than last year and hopefully will be more stable than in the recent past.

using cross fences to allow a grazing pressure of three to five head of cattle to the acre at a time. Then when the forage is grazed off, cattle can be rotated to another pasture.

This controlled grazing results in better use, higher quality forage and more uniform grazing patterns. It also allows a hay cutting if a pasture grows more grass than can be grazed.

RE-LANDSCAPE

Now is a good time to get busy re-doing your landscape. Cut back and shape large overgrown shrubs so they will give the proper effect. You may wish to replace overgrown plants with dwarf species or varieties.

Good landscaping is the proper use of plants to increase the value, beauty and usefulness of property.

Congress was skeptical

Camels in the Southwest!

At first, Congress laughed. Texans were skeptical and horses balked; but the Navy stood firm—there would be camels in America's Southwest!

So on the morning of May 14, 1856, Lieutenant David D. Porter, commanding officer of the storehouse USS Supply, unloaded 34 Egyptian camels at Indianola, Texas, for use by the U.S. Army in the arid Southwest.

Jefferson Davis, then Secretary of War, first broached the camel scheme to the Senate Military Affairs Committee in 1851. Camels in America? Preposterous! With roars of laughter and a 24-1 vote, the proposal was dropped. After three attempts, Davis finally obtained Congressional approval and then turned to the Navy for transportation.

The voyage began on June 3, 1855. Since information on the care and breeding of camels was almost non-existent in the Western Hemisphere, Lt. Porter had to buy a test camel and teach himself how to keep and feed it aboard ship before buying a whole shipload.

Sideburns got their name from civil war General Burnside, who had quite a pair.

He purchased his first camel in Tunis, North Africa, for $20. All together Lt. Porter acquired three test camels and doctored them with sulphur, doughballs and paregoric. He cured one stubborn case of itch, and learned that camels do not get seasick. By the time he reached Egypt, he was ready to buy his first shipload of camels.

With this load of camels was a huge female, weighing more than 2,000 pounds and standing seven and a half feet. She was so tall Lt. Porter had to cut away part of his main deck to accommodate the lady's hump.

During the three-month return voyage, six camels were born, four were mated, and five died during the difficult winter passage. Nevertheless, as the first 34 camels were being unloaded, Lt. Porter received new orders from Secretary Davis: "Make another trip for camels." So, almost a year later, Lt. Porter returned with the last load of 41 camels.

So successful were the 75 camels, that Colonel Robert E. Lee recommended an additional one thousand camels be imported.

The Secretary of War strongly approved, but by the early 1860's, Congress was embroiled in the issues of secession, states' rights and impending war—so America's camel brigade was forgotten.

The camels were used for a short time by the American military, but after the Civil War, were left to roam the deserts of the Southwest, to eventually meet extinction from the rifles of Pioneer hunters.

Tax overpayment would permit cut, or rebate

In a recent announcement, Governor Bill Waller said that Mississippi is to end 1975 some $24 million in the black. This is a commendable overage. Yet we believe a surplus of this magnitude dictates a need for better fiscal planning coupled with lower taxes.

Waller noted that the state derives approximately half its revenues from the sales tax, and although the spending pattern of Mississippi consumer during this recession period resulted in a reduction in anticipated tax collections, revenue from these sources exceeded those of the same periods last year.

The record shows state tax collections for the first three months of this fiscal year were 13 percent ahead of budget commission estimates and over .07 percent higher than last year.

The tax payers of this state will be delighted to hear the government is doing so well and that the incoming administration is to be greater with an approximate 24.5 million dollar general fund overage.

As government agencies, by and large, have a distinct habit of spending budgets down to the last penny, to ensure a like or better bite the following year, it is doubtful if this overage is the result of government restraint, more likely it is the result of overcharging the already heavily encumbered taxpayer beyond the point of necessity.

The finger of responsibility to reduce this unnecessary tax burden lies on the budget commission, to first maintain the present levels of state government spending, but primarily to introduce legislation to permit an immediate slash in anticipated income by some $49 million.

Half this amount has already been amassed by the present overtax rate. The immediate lessening of tax will permit the second half not to be collected during the balance of this fiscal year.

Another alternative exists. Let the state refund the overtax directly to the taxpayer in the form of a cash rebate or tax credit.

Both have been done before, though not perhaps in this state, so the precedents exist.

weekly news summary

Waller honored at demo conference

The National Democratic Governors' Conference honored Mississippi Governor Bill Waller during closing sessions of the Conference last week in Washington, D. C.

In a resolution authored by Governor Brendon Byrne of New Jersey, the Conference said, "Governor Waller has contributed enormously to the work and progress of the State of Mississippi and the Democratic Governors' Conference."

Governor Byrne added, "He has earned the valued friendship and respect of his colleagues in all state governments."

TAX COLLECTIONS INCREASE

Charles Brady, Chairman of the State Tax Commission, said last week that sales and use tax collections for the first five months of fiscal year 1976 show an increase of 3.08 percent over the same period last year.

Brady said funds transferred to the state's General Fund from July through November totaled $225,529,195, or a 6.21 percent increase over the $212,341,256 recorded last year.

He said November, 1975, sales and use tax collections totaled $25,241,896, an increase .074 percent over November, 1974.

Brady said, "While we realize November collections are 0.73 percent below Budget Commission estimates, we must point out that, due to the month ending on a Sunday, we lose two days of receipts which will be posted in December rather than November."

He added that the Thanksgiving holidays also had "handicapped mailing" and would cause an even greater number of November receipts to be recorded with December collections.

Brady said, "An estimated 3,000 (nearly 10 percent) November returns would be affected by this situation. We feel these would place us well over the Budget Commission estimates."

DETENTE'S EMPTY PROMISES

What is "detente" and why is it suddenly one of the most controversial words in the English language?

Detente, according to Webster: "A relaxation of strained relations or tensions (as between nations)."

Detente, according to a former Secretary of Defense, is "a live-and-let-live policy."

To at least one member of the United States Senate, detente is "nothing more than a simple case of two parties who have some items that they might want to exchange and are willing to come together in a marketplace and talk about a deal.... it is a bridge between two sides."

Whatever the distinctions, everyone agrees that detente is a two-way street. It cannot be one-sided. One nation should not benefit at the expense of another.

Right there is where the disagreement escalates. Many foreign policy analysts, including former Secretary of Defense James Schlesinger, have argued long and hard that the Soviet Union is taking great advantage of its "detente" with the United States.

"A detente policy is desirable to try to reduce political tension," Schlesinger told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last week, "but strictly on the basis of mutuality. Concessions granted in order to elicit future good will will fail in that objective."

There are those in the House and the Senate who feel that Russia is the one reaping all the benefits from the U. S. - Soviet detente. Russia is doing the taking, the argument goes. We're doing all the giving.

First there was the infamous grain deal in 1972, where we lost badly in negotiations at the "marketplace." Then there was the Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty, which gave the Soviets a 3-2 advantage in numbers of sea-based and land-based strategic missiles, and an even greater advantage in throw weight of those missiles.

Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

Russia expressed a great interest in an exchange of scientific and technical knowledge. They need it, we've got it, and we're giving it to them - for nothing in return.

And what about the highly-acclaimed commitments to a "freer movement of people and ideas"? When the crunch came and a Russian Nobel Peace Prize winner recently asked to leave the country long enough to pick up the award, he was quickly and firmly turned down by the Soviet government.

Now we're hearing charges that Russia has violated the SALT agreements. State Department officials deny it, but no less an authority than retired Admiral Elmo Zumwalt stoutly maintains that there have been "gross violations."

Further evidence of dissatisfaction with the U. S. - Soviet detente surfaced last week in Red China during the President's visit. The Chinese left no doubt about their uneasiness with our relations with Russia.

In the midst of all this controversy is the continuing debate about the proposed reduction in our defense budget. Schlesinger - and many others - have repeatedly warned against cutting back at a time when Russia is escalating.

"The question is not 'How much are the Russians spending?'" one anti-defense congressman argued. "The question is 'How much is enough for the defense of this country and its vital interests?'"

That's a tough question and I'm very much in favor of putting a lid on all kinds of government spending. "Putting a lid" on defense spending, however, should not mean cutting into the heart of our national defense capability.

In my view, the only way to bring about a successful detente - with Russia or with anyone else - is to back ourselves up with a strong defense, drive some hard bargains at the negotiating table, and enforce the results of those negotiations.

I like the idea of detente and I believe we should pursue it. Certainly, an open line of communication and a relaxation of tension is better than a "cold" war. And it beats the daylight out of a "hot" war.

I just don't think we should give away everything but the kitchen sink in return for nothing more than empty promises.

PLEASE CONTINUE CHAMBER SUPPORT

Editor, Sea Coast Echo,

To Waveland area business managers and all other citizens interested in the growth and welfare of Hancock County. Please do not let the news item concerning the proposed formation of a Waveland Area Chamber of Commerce deter you from resuming your membership in the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce. To all those that are not members and are interested in a prosperous way of life for yourself and your children join the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce now, your support is essential. The small membership fee you pay combined with many others will be a great help to our Community.

Like other concerned citizens I have been a Chamber member for about 16 years, having as many as three memberships some years under different Company names. I am a past member of the Board of Directors and I have continued to work with them on various projects. This affiliation proved to me that the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce has accomplished a lot and would do much more if they were not limited by basic organization problems and lack of citizen participation.

If and when the Waveland area Chamber of Commerce is organized and ready to operate effectively then you will be invited to support it, to work with the Director and Management to do the job that must be done to secure prosperous living today and in the future for all concerned.

In the interim I urge you again to stay with the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and support it in every way possible.

Mansion News

By Carroll Waller

Our halls aren't decked "...with boughs of holly," but Christmas has come to the Mansion in the form of a beautiful double balsam tree in the grandstair hall and wreaths of all kinds most anywhere you look.

When the Mansion was first occupied in 1841 you didn't run down to the store for Christmas decorations - the family gathered to string popcorn and cranberries and make other ornaments for the tree and house. We are using this type of traditional decoration in the historic part of our 1840s Mansion.

Lots of time and effort from 4-Hers across the state have been put into making these decorations for the Mansion as well as other more modern ornaments that will be used on the family tree.

The gorgeous tree in the grandstair hall almost fills this large area and was grown on a plantation in Yazoo County. K. K. Hill of Yazoo City is one of our volunteer docents at the Mansion who volunteered to decorate the Mansion for Christmas. He spent most of Monday getting the tree and had planned to start decorating it on Tuesday, but had reckoned without the Waller children. Don came in from school and wanted to start immediately. Joy came home from work and added her vote. The cats joined the party and K. K. finally left early Tuesday morning with the tree decorating well under way.

Decorations on the tree include garlands of popcorn and cranberries, red velvet bows, old fashioned gingerbread men with raisin eyes, fresh fruits and handmade ornaments.

Passers by on Capitol Street can enjoy wreaths of cedar and pine on every front window. They will also notice boxwood wreaths on both the gazebos. The front door, of course, has "the" wreath which is a medallion effect of fresh fruit and greenery. Visitors entering the Mansion via the west door will enjoy a balsam wreath highlighted with lemons while visitors entering through the beveled glass doors at the family entrance will enjoy a balsam wreath featuring red apples and halved pineapples.

We'll keep you up to date as other decorations are added.

Social Security Notes

Federal Privacy Act safeguards information

People must be told why they are asked to give information to the Social Security Administration and other Federal agencies under a law that became effective in September.

The intent of the law—the Federal Privacy Act—is to safeguard information about individuals kept in Government records and to inform people of their rights when they are asked to give information, according to Charles E. Wofford, social security district manager in Gulfport.

Social security routinely gets information from people in administering retirement, survivors, and disability insurance, Medicare, the supplemental security income program, and black lung benefits.

"Under the Privacy Act," Wofford said, "people asked for information must be told the statutory authority for the request, whether giving the information is voluntary or mandatory, why the information is needed, how it will be used, and the effects of not providing it."

A fact sheet explaining the law generally is given to people before starting an interview in social security offices, he said.

The Privacy Act restricts Government use of social security numbers. Any Federal, State, or local agency that asks for an individual's social security number must cite its authority for the request, say whether giving the number is voluntary or mandatory, and tell how the number will be used, according to Wofford.

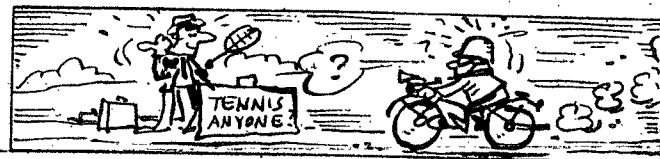

The law also assures people of greater access to Government records of information about themselves, he said.

gets scientific papers

The Gunter Library of the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory at Ocean Springs has received two major gifts of scientific papers and books to Dr. H. J. Bennett and Dr. Jean Piotti, both retiring university professors.

The collection of Dr. Bennett, who taught for many years in the Department of Zoology and Physiology at Louisiana State University, includes material that dates back to the 1800's. The collection also contains various scientific journals, reports and books relating to marine biology with an estimated value of $14,000.

Included in the Bennett collection are the papers of the late Dr. Henry B. Ward. Ward's papers were given to Bennett in 1947 and contain the work of different parasitologists, dating from the 1800's.

Dr. Jean Piotti of the Department of Anatomy, School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania has donated her collection containing over 4,000 items dealing with experimental embryology and related subjects. This information will enable the Laboratory to "initiate study into this area," according to Dr. Harold House, director.

The Gunter Library is considered by many marine scientists as the largest and most nearly complete in the

Toys advertised on TV may not be best buys

Toy season refers to the toy commercials that appear on television. These commercials are beamed at children of all ages, including adults who think that a toy which appears on TV is just the thing that their child would like for Christmas.

Prepare yourself ahead of time this year. Decide just how much you intend to spend on each child. Write it down, then check to see if the amount falls within the budget.

Next, decide if the toy is right for the child. Determine what the child is capable of doing, where his interests lie and what he might actually need. In other words, decide if it is suitable for the child at his particular age level and his special interests.

It's important to shop early. Take advantage of early season sales. Also, do some comparative shopping. You may find wide variations in price from one store to another.

Here are some specific things to look for in toys. The first thing is quality. Make certain the toy is well-made and that it will last. Be careful about the bestsellers. They are often expensive, and of uncertain quality. Be sure to consider the safety angle. If you are in doubt about any of these features, call 467-5456 and ask for a copy of the new Christmas Ideas Leaflet which contains information about toy selections.

If your child feels that he simply must have a toy he has seen advertised on TV, talk it over with him. Look closely at it when you go to a store. You may find they don't live up to the advertisement.

SMPDD sponsors seminars on state and federal programs

Featuring speakers from the federal, state, and local levels of government, the Second Annual Seminar on Federal and State Programs gets underway Thursday, Dec. 11, at the Biloxi Hilton Hotel.

Sponsored by the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District (SMPDD), the seminar will feature

Governor-elect Cliff Finch at a Thursday evening banquet.

Scheduled to begin at noon Thursday with registration, the seminar is geared primarily towards providing an overview of federal and state programs for public officials. Some 200 mayors, aldermen, city commissioners, supervisors, and clerks from the southernmost 15 counties are expected to attend.

Over a dozen speakers representing a variety of federal and state programs and organizations will present overviews of their programs and address trends and program plans for the upcoming year.

According to SMPDD Executive Director, Les Newcomb, the seminar should be of special value to newly-elected public officials.

"There is a wide variety of federal and state programs that are important to the development of local governments," says Newcomb, "and we are trying to give exposure of some of the more important ones to officials who may not be aware of such programs."

Stennis will seek Senate reelection

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Senator John C. Stennis announced Monday he would be a candidate for reelection to the United States Senate in 1976.

In making his announcement, Stennis said, "I have always tried to conduct myself personally and as a United States Senator so as to reflect credit on the people and state of Mississippi. The men and women of Mississippi who carry the burdens and problems of everyday life are the ones who worked for election and put me in office. I have never forgotten this. It is their interest and welfare I keep uppermost in mind at all times and which I represent in the Senate. I want and need the support of all Mississippians in my reelection efforts. I earnestly ask for their help and support now."

Senator Stennis said, "I will stand on my record with which Mississippians are already familiar, and I pledge to continue my efforts in their behalf in seeking solutions to the problems which we face today. I believe my experience and ability to cooperate with others at the local, state, and national levels will enable me to continue to effectively represent Mississippi in Washington and to get things done for our State."

Referring to his health, the senator, who suffered gunshot wounds during a street robbery in front of his home in January, 1973, said "My doctors have assured me that I am fully recovered and completely able to continue my work. I am personally convinced that this is correct because I have actually performed my full duties throughout 1974 and 1975."

Stennis ranks 5th in continuous service in the United States Senate. Currently he is Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee and its Preparedness Subcommittee; a ranking member of the Senate Appropriations Committee including chairmanship of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works and membership on the Agriculture Subcommittee and four other Appropriation Subcommittees and a member of the Ethics Committee and the Space Committee.

GOP chairman criticizes Finch

State Republican Chairman Clarke Reed sharply criticized Governor-elect Cliff Finch this week for soliciting contributions from county and municipal governments to pay off his campaign deficit.

"It is an absolute violation of state law for taxpayers' money to be used to pay off political debts," Reed said in Greenville. "I hope county and municipal officials will refuse to participate in this outrageous raid on the public treasury, and where the practice is already going on, the taxpayers should demand that the guilty public officials reimburse the public funds with their own money."

Reed referred to Finch campaign officials selling ads in the inaugural program to county and city governments and using proceeds to wipe out Finch's campaign debt of over $135,000. Finch officials admitted that such a practice had been implemented.

"Frankly," the Southern GOP leader said, "I'm afraid our worst suspicions about the incoming administration are being fulfilled even before it takes office."

On a related subject, the Greenville businessman said the Carmichael for Governor campaign had no debt. "Gill's campaign finished slightly in the black, and was paid up on election day. We don't believe in spending money you don't have."

Stennis sure transfer will proceed

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Senator John C. Stennis Saturday expressed "extreme disappointment" in the temporary delay in the transfer of the Navy Oceanographic Office to Hancock County as a result of a preliminary injunction issued by U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell.

Stennis said "The district judge ruled that the Navy's environmental impact statement was technically deficient in basically two areas. I am convinced his objections are about technicalities that can be corrected by the Navy within a reasonable time and that the transfer will then proceed as planned."

Mr. Frisbie has recently purchased two other vehicles from Turan-Lane Chevrolet and was well pleased with the previous service and the way he was treated by everyone at this fine dealership. When he decided to buy again he visited them and talked to salesman Herb Baron who gave him a Turan-Lane deal that was to his liking. Many of Turan-Lane Chevrolet's customers are repeat customers because they like the way they service their vehicles and the friendly way they treat them.

Lice infestations widespread among school children

Incidence of head and body lice among Mississippians in all areas of the state has reached epidemic proportions, according to Dr. Durward Blakey, chief, Bureau of Disease Control, Mississippi State Board of Health.

According to Dr. Blakey, it's not only Mississippi that is suffering from widespread lice infestation, but also the United States and the world. Lice are small insects which can live and breed in the clothing and hairy body parts of man. They are blood-feeding insects, and their bites cause intense itching which is frequently the first sign of infection.

"Lice have been intimately associated with man since time immemorial," said Dr. Blakey. "In the past we have seen epidemics in times of drastic social change, such as war or famines."

"The infestations are no respecters of socio-economic status," he said. "Just as military troops were readily available for examination, school children provide obvious groupings of individuals wherein infection is more easily found."

"However, school settings are no more likely to spread these diseases than are other areas of social contact," Dr. Blakey added.

"We now know that lice infestation is always present," he said. "It rises steadily until it reaches a peak about every ten to thirteen years. We are approaching the peak in the current cycle. Lice used to be associated with people who did not bathe or wash properly. Now, it can happen to anyone anywhere."

Lice are spread from person to person by close personal contact, and by sharing articles of clothing, hairbrushes, combs, hats, wigs, etc. Lice do not jump or hop, but crawl slowly.

Lice are quite small and are of a neutral color which make them difficult to see. Female lice lay eggs (called "nits") either on hair shafts or along seams in clothing.

These eggs usually hatch in about one week. The nits are held firmly in place by a glue which the female louse secretes with the egg.

If suspicious objects are flakey and dislodge easily, it may be only dandruff. But, if you see tiny white flecks attached to the hair with a sticky material and they can not be gotten off unless pulled the full length of the hair — then you are looking at nits or louse eggs.

There are three types of lice. Head lice prefer to live and multiply in the finer hair found behind the ears or at the back of the neck. They may be found in the eyebrows or other facial hair, and in caps, collars, and on scarves.

Body lice are closely related to head lice, but usually prefer to live in underclothing and other garments, and near the skin where they must migrate to feed. Bites are commonly found about the shoulders or the waist.

Crab lice are only distantly related to head and body lice, and are usually found in the coarse hair near the sex organs, but may also be found in the armpits, eyelashes, or other hair. Crab lice may be spread by sexual contact or by contact with infested bedding or clothing.

When it is determined that a person is infested with lice, treatment should be given as soon as possible. There are several special lotions, shampoos or powders that are effective. Some are available without a prescription at a pharmacy. Also, your family physician or health department can recommend the proper treatment.

Treatment usually consists of washing hair and or body parts with the recommended shampoo. Following this nits must be combed out with a fine tooth comb or pulled out with fingernails the full length of the hair. Nit removal is not essential for successful treatment, but treatment must be repeated at weekly intervals as long as they are present.

Brushes, combs, bedclothes, clothing, caps hats and other articles used by the person should be checked closely for incidence of lice or nits. If they are found, thorough laundering and cleaning will be necessary.

"Most of the people we have seen in the last month with lice complained that they had 'bugs,'" said Dr. Margaret Morrison, District VIII Health Officer, Mississippi State Board of Health. "People have not heard of lice in years, so they naturally assume that it must be something else."

It is very important that family members, classmates, and other close contacts of all persons with lice be closely examined for evidence of infestation. If other persons are found to be infested, they should be treated at the same time as the first case.

"Every day some distressed school official calls to report an outbreak of lice in his school," said Dr. Blakey. "Closing the schools is not the answer. There is no simple miracle solution to the pandemic. It's going to be a long winter. People must be prepared to treat and re-treat if necessary."

Lice are more than a nuisance. They can carry serious diseases under certain circumstances, and should therefore always be treated. According to Dr. Blakey, further information may be obtained by writing the Board of Health or by contacting your family physician or county health department.

State DARS attend mansion tour and tea

By JOE PILET

Mississippi's First Lady, Mrs. Carroll Waller, received members of the state's chapters of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution during a formal tea and tour of the mansion this week. The function was given in honor of Mrs. Max L. Pharr, DAR state regent.

Gulfcoast delegates from six coastal towns went to Jackson via chartered bus. Delegates included Mrs. Jack H. Haviland of Ocean Springs, regent of the Biloxi Chapter; Mrs. Robert Bird of Long Beach, regent of the Gulfcoast Chapter; Mmes. Jeanne Davis Coker and Phyllis Barrios of Pass Christian; Mmes. Thomas Garner and Nunez C. Pilet of Bay St. Louis; Mmes. L. J. Stewart, Roger P. Morgan, W. C. Fritz, Louise Knox of Biloxi; Ms. Bessie S. Eberhart of Ocean Springs, Mrs. Robert Langlois of Mississippi City and a visiting DAR, Mrs. Marie W. Hering of

Lake City, Florida.

Because of the historical significance and classic architectural design of the building, the Mansion was recently designated by the U. S. Department of the Interior as a National Historic Landmark. It is one of two mansions in our nation to receive this distinction.

Delightful entertainment was provided by groups of elementary school children who danced, sang carols, and gave readings from traditional Noel themes.

Guests were presented a beautiful brochure having as its front cover a reproduction of the front view of the mansion. The original painting by Martha Cox Brooks was a winner in an art competition sponsored by Governor and Mrs. Waller and the Mississippi Art Association to select a cover for the First Family's 1974 Christmas Card.

History of the Mansion together with drawings of the First and Second Floor Plans were provided that guests might enjoy a self-guided tour at their leisure. The first lady also provided her guests with a printed folder giving her favorite recipes and including the south's pride—shrimp and eggplant dressing, Garlic Cheese Grits, Hushpuppies and Southern Pecan Pie.

Mississippi was credited with being "home of the world's largest pecan nursery" as well as developer of Mississippi Mud Cake and a custard made with eggs—and the comment that Mississippi boasts the largest egg farm in the world.

Bay area students invited to participate in tourney

Science and mathematics students from the Bay St. Louis area are invited to participate in the second annual Science and Mathematics Tournament sponsored by Mississippi College on Thursday and Friday, Feb. 5-6, 1976.

Dr. Paul Ohme, associate professor of mathematics and coordinator of academic computing at the college, said the innovative tournament will recognize accomplishments in the sciences, including mathematics, by high school students and to promote public awareness of their accomplishments.

"I'm sure there are some outstanding students in the Bay St. Louis area who should participate in this year's tournament," said Dr. Ohme, coordinator of the program. He indicated the first such tournament held in February of this year attracted 630 students from 84 different schools with over $12,000 in scholastic awards given out.

The tournament will consist of a written test in the morning, where students will compete individually, followed by a team effort in the afternoon where the College Bowl format will be used. Individual scores will be given on the written test which will then be used to form a portion of the team score.

Individual tests will be given covering the areas of biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics, with each contestant being required to take two tests of his or her choosing. In the team competition, quick responses and calculations by the team members will be required for questions flashed on a screen.

Competitions will be broken down into classes, with one class featuring students from high schools offering biology, chemistry, advanced mathematics and physics.

Another class will involve students from high schools not offering courses in the areas to be tested or not offering a mathematics course beyond Algebra II.

Individual and team awards will be given the winners with awards consisting of plaques, scholarships, savings bonds and certificates.

Persons desiring additional information should contact Dr. Ohme by writing to P. O. Box 4023, Clinton, MS. 39058, or calling 924-5131, Ext. 217.

Gaining job experience

Mississippi State University student Michael Carver of Bay St. Louis obtains work experience with Coast Electric Power Association under his five year work-study program for a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering. Carver is one of many students taking advantage of Cooperative Education Programs.

Veteran's Service Office - Chester Currey

Some vets eligible for non-service pensions

In the past week I have had two veterans who were eligible for non-service connected pension say they didn't know of the V.A. benefit. The following is an explanation of eligibility requirements for NON-SERVICE CONNECTED DISABILITY PENSION.

If the amount of income from all sources does not exceed $3000 annually for a single, divorced or widowed veteran or the widow of a veteran, they may be eligible for a pension. The income for a veteran with dependents or a widow with dependents is established at $4200 maximum.

Veterans under 65 years of age must have a doctor's examination statement specifying they are both disabled and unemployable. The widow does not need a statement of disability. Veterans over 65 are presumed to be permanently and totally disabled and their income is the governing factor.

Veterans, widows and children of veterans of the Mexican Border Period, World War I, World War II, Korean Conflict and the Vietnam era, when the veteran received a discharge under other than dishonorable conditions are eligible. Wartime veterans who had more than 90 days service (or separated earlier because of service-connected disabilities) who are permanently and totally disabled, from reasons not traceable to service, nor due to willful misconduct or vicious habits, may be eligible.

Periods Of War: Mexican Border Period, May 9, 1916 to April 5, 1917. Eligible if the veteran served one day on the border, or in Mexico, or in adjacent waters.

World War I - April 6, 1917 to Nov. 11, 1918; extended to April 1, 1920 for those who served in Russia; also extended through July 1, 1921 for those who served after Nov. 11, 1918 provided that such veteran had at least one day service between Apr. 5, 1917 and Nov. 12, 1918.

World War II: Dec. 7, 1941 through Dec. 31, 1946; Extended to July 25, 1947 where continuous active duty began on or before Dec. 31, 1946.

Korean Conflict: June 27, 1950 through Jan. 31, 1955 ... Vietnam Era: Aug. 5, 1964 through May 7, 1975. NOTE: The required 90 days could have been obtained

Bay student finds work-study program offers benefits of degree and job training

STARKVILLE, MISS. - Michael J. Carver, of Bay St. Louis is participating in the Cooperative Education Program at Mississippi State University while working for a Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering.

Under this five-year program he is receiving not only his regular college education, but also two years of practical experience in electrical engineering. In addition to this experience he receives a salary.

This financial reward is only one of the many advantages of the Cooperative Education Program.

Carver is completing a work semester with Coast Electric Power Association, located in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, and will be returning to the Mississippi State campus for the spring semester, 1976.

During this work semester Carver says his duties have included, "...the responsibility to collect and organize data necessary for the computer, I am also in the process of compiling a substation information for an accurate and up-to-date reference".

He says of this work assignment, "The most beneficial aspects of the training I received this semester was learning what I will put special emphasis on in school".

Carver is one of the many State students taking advantage of the Cooperative Education Program which is available in agriculture, arts and sciences, business and industry, education, engineering and the school of forestry resources.

Another week of inclement weather, rain Saturday and Sunday night with cooler weather Sunday which was good for hunting rabbits, squirrel and ducks. Fishing wasn't too bad either. Speckles, and other salt water fish as well as bass were caught. Speckles are still being caught out front along both bridges and at Bayou Caddy. Speckles haven't gone up Jourdan River as yet, but should start moving in shortly, we hope.

Bass (green trout) are being caught mostly on underwater baits, especially by those casting with artificial worms. Worm fishing is an art in itself. We understand the best method for getting them on worms is not to jerk them on the first indication but wait until the fish has the worm in its mouth. Worm fishing takes a lot of practice before one gets good. It has been proven that worm fishing gets bigger fish.

Caught some speckles at Three Oak Bayou the other day by trolling. Red head plugs seemed to be the most effective. There have been low tides early in the morning all week which are best for bass fishing.

Understand that some nice size speckles are being caught down in Bayou Caddy. To prove this Mrs. Grace Borge got her share of big ones this past week. Mrs. Borge uses live shrimp for bait. She is one of our best lady fishermen. Goes regularly and enjoys it.

Bud Thomas is a salt water fisherman. Said he caught 4 flounders down by Bayou Caddy and on his way home saw a deer down by Bucaneer Park off the highway.

W. W. Hays and H. H. Hays from Baton Rouge do both hunting and fishing. They were trying their luck down our way. Come often fellows we have game in our woods and fish in our streams on the Gulf Coast.

Now that Christmas is not far off the annual Christmas Dance sponsored by the St. Stanislaus Sideline Club will be held on Saturday, Dec. 20. The band for the occasion will be the same as last year, "Crosswalk." Tickets will be sold in advance.

Met a swell fishing couple Frank Thomas and his wife Darlin of Moss Point, Miss. Both these folks do casting for green trout. Made a nice catch up Pearl River Saturday. They use artificial worms for bait and have a beautiful bass boat from which they do their fishing.

H. E. Watkins gives us the dope about fishing off the seawall and in Bayou Caddy. He does fishing himself and gets his share of fish when they are biting. Laying off right now he said.

Jene Domain is another good fisherman. He has purchased a new boat and is going when the weather straightens out.

Hunting for quail and other game has slowed down due to too much water in the woods according to our local hunters.

When the snipe season opens there should be some mighty good shooting. Have been seeing plenty snipe most everywhere. Snipe are hunted in lowlands and marsh country. A fast flying bird, they make for good eating.

Joe Chiniche who works for the R.E.A. is another one of our local fishermen. Joe goes whenever he can. Brings 'em home too.

Plenty of our local bayous are not called by their right names. Most have Indian names but are called by names given them. For instance Joe's Bayou is called after Joe Cospelich because Joe for years had a shipyard on the Bayou. Rotten Bayou up Jourdan River is the right name for that bayou. It was named by the Indians because Rotten means bad water in the Indian language. False Teeth Bayou was called that name because a fisherman lost his false teeth and they were found by a fisherman with a cast net. It is up Bayou LaCroix.

Sad to say, the word sad comes from the Anglo-Saxon word saed, meaning full or sated.

Smith hits jumper for win

Tigers hang tight to down Poplarville, 57-55

By DAN BARBER

The Bay High Tigers continued their string of impressive victories this week with a 57-55 come-from-behind win over a fired up Poplarville High School at Tiger Dome Tuesday night. The win upped the record of Coach Mike Necaise's "mighty midgets" to 8-1, their only loss coming to Harrison Central Nov. 25.

Paul Saucier and Lewis Smith led the Tigers out of deep water after premier guard Allison Favre fouled out in the third period of play. Smith hit a clutch jump shot and two free throws to carry the Tigers over Poplarville in the game's dying seconds. "We were down all the way," Necaise said following the narrow win, "but our kids just never quit."

"The boys won this one on their own," the coach added, "because I had already accepted defeat. Poplarville came in here well coached and fired up and it was just a miracle that we won this one." The Hornets led at the half 34-22, but the Tigers kept picking away at the Poplarville lead in the third and fourth periods before equalizing the game on Lewis's basket with nine seconds to play.

Senior center Paul Saucier led the Tiger bench with 16 points. Allison Favre followed with 14 before fouling out. Others in double figures were Smith with 13 and Clarence Hargett with 10. Poplarville was led by Elton Brown with 18, followed by Joey Howard and Alvin Hinton with 12 each and Ronald Brown with 10.

The Tigers last week captured the Pass High Tournament nailing down wins over St. Stanislaus (69-56) and St. John (67-51) before eliminating Pass in the finals 74-54. The Tigerettes captured the girls title by beating the Pass girls 31-20 Saturday night.

Allison Favre was named the Tournaments Most Valuable Player and was named to the All Tournament team along with Sophomore forward Mike Thomas. For the girls Connie Payne was named the Most Valuable Player and was All Tournament along with sophomore center Andrea Favre.

The Tigers will host Big Eight school Moss Point tonight in an 8:15 p.m. match-up at Tiger Dome. The varsity tilt will be preceded by the Tigerettes vs. Andrew Jackson at 7 p.m. and the B-team game with Moss Point at 5:30 p.m.

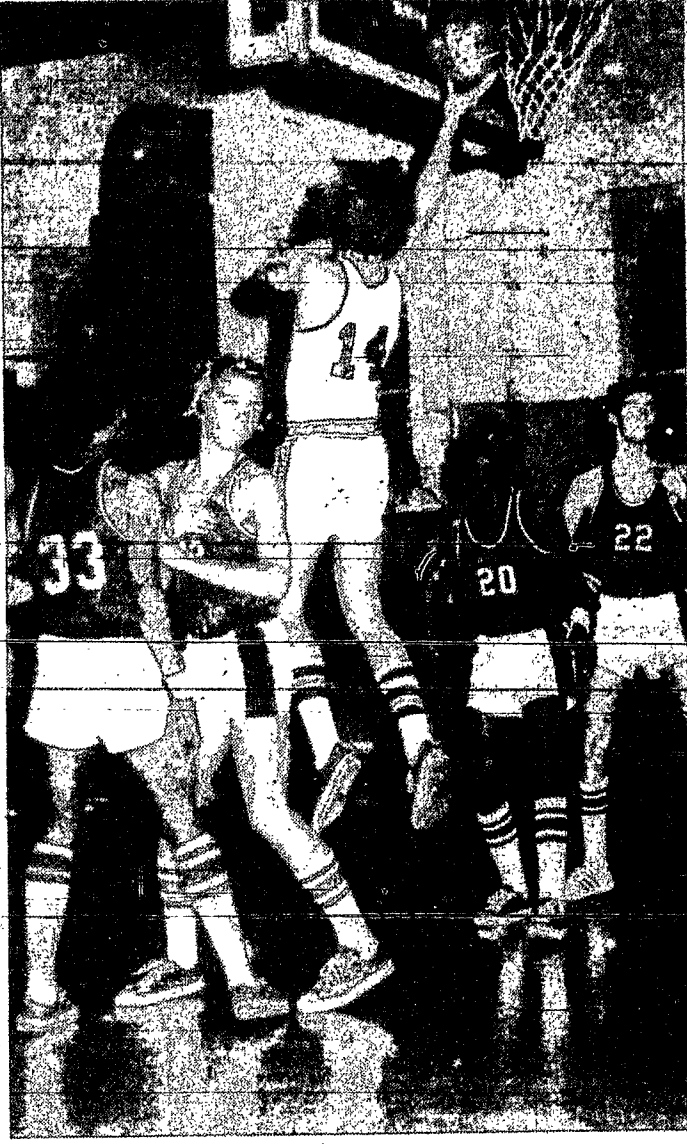

Murphy Invitational attracts seven

Seven schools will participate in the Charles B. Murphy Elementary School's fourth annual Invitational Basketball Tournament, according to James Baldrice, principal.

Scheduled for Dec. 10 through 15, the tournament had its opening games last night, will see two games tonight commencing at 6 p.m.; four games Friday beginning at 5 p.m. with the final two games to start at 7 p.m., Saturday.

Schools having accepted the invitation are, Bay Junior High School, Gulfview Elementary, Hancock North Central Junior High School, Pizay Junior High School, St. Rose de Liria, and Annunciation School.

In conjunction with the tournament, the school's Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) will stage a spaghetti supper from 6 to 8 p.m., Saturday, with proceeds going to the athletic fund.

STANISLAUS player Paul Brown lays up easy basket amidst host of East Central players Tuesday night.

Stanislaus sweeps East Central, 60-50

Senior guard Duane Smith led the St. Stanislaus Rockchaws with 21 points Tuesday night as the Rocks swept past East Central High School 60-50 in Bay St. Louis.

The win extended the Rocks record to 2-4.

Paul Brown followed Smith with 13 points and 16 rebounds. Mark Moran was the only other Rockchaw in double figures with 12 points.

Seay leads Bulldogs over Bay Junior

Russell Seay led the Gulfview Bulldogs with 16 points Friday night as the Bulldogs defeated the seventh and eighth grade of Bay Junior High 39-25 in regular season play.

Teddy Haynes led the Tiger bench with six points.

It was the Bulldogs fourth win against no losses.

Vols, Pennsylvania open Sugar Bowl

NEW ORLEANS — Pennsylvania and Tennessee will clash in the first game and the Tulane Greenies will battle Ohio State in the second game in the opening round of the Sugar Bowl's holiday cage classic here on Sunday, December 29.

A record crowd, largest ever to witness a college tournament in New Orleans, is expected at the Louisiana Superdome, which will house the two-night event.

The Volunteers of Coach Ray Mears, which have had 13 consecutive winning seasons, is among the Top Ten college teams and is favored to win the Southeastern Conference championship.

Two scoring stars of last season's 18-6 club, sensational Bernard King and two-time ALL-SEC first teamer Ernie Grunfield, along with playmaking guard Mike Jackson, should enhance Mears' place at the top of college basketball mentors with a winning percentage of .743.

Charles Moir will be in his third year at the helm of the Green Wave from Tulane, and herates this club the best with such standouts as All-American Phil Hicks; Jeff Cummings, 6-10 transfer from SMU; three-time New Orleans prep scoring champion Pierre Gaudin; and playmaker Tom Hicks ready to lead the Wave to a high place among the college independents.

Jesse James loved chili so much that he refused to rob a bank in McKinney, Texas, because that's where his favorite chili parlor was located.

Poplarville stops Tigerettes, 35-33

The Bay High Tigerettes, playing without the services of starters Cindy Stieffel and Andrea Favre, dropped their third game of the season Tuesday night as the Poplarville Hornets overcame a halftime deficit to win 35-33 at the Tiger Dome.

Friday night in the Pass Tournament, Margie Richardson led the Tigerette's bench against Poplarville with 10 points. Rita Howard was high for Poplarville with 25.

The Tigerettes' record is now 6-3. The girls return to action tonight as they host Andrew Jackson in a 7 p.m. match at Tiger Dome.

The Hornets, who were down much of the game Tuesday night, pulled ahead in the fourth period as Tiger Coach Willie Bradley was forced to call upon his reserves to spell a tired Tigerette team.

Andrea Favre, the Tigerette's star sophomore center, had to watch the game from the bench Tuesday after sustaining a chipped patella against Pass High School in the Pass High Tournament last Saturday night. Favre was named to the All Tournament team with MVP Connie Payne.

Bradley's other injured starter, Cindy Stieffel, is out this week from a sprained ankle suffered in the Bay's game with St. John last

All systems go, as Rockets blast Devils

David Fricke captured top scoring honors Monday when the Rockets of Charles B. Murphy Elementary took on the Junior High Blue Devils from Pearl River County. Snaking a victory from a game tied up at 28 apiece, late in the fourth quarter, the Rockets basked in a final count of 42-34 in their favor. The win followed another

Rocket victory when the girls' team trounced PRC, 32-16. Rocket Coach Roland Summers apparently read the riot act to his players when at the tied score point a Pearl River time out permitted a quick strategy and pep session with his squad. Chuck Benigno finished high with 10 points for the Rockets. Philip Lichtenstein added 9;

Gary Oliver had 7; Scott Anderson had 3; Floyd Willis, 2. Top Blue Devil score slot went to J. Hutchinson, with 13 points. Girls' scoring was: Ann Acker, 12; Louise Tops, 8; Tracy Lewis, 6; Bernice Acker, 4; Lynn McArthur, 2. Missi Sones with 5 points was top scoring Pearl River girl.

Rea thinks "proper respect" is forthcoming

POPLARVILLE - "A lot of people are taking us for granted," head coach Charles Rea said, after his Wildcats had just posted a 85-71 home win over the Wood Eagles here Saturday night to complete a three game home sweep, and move their season's record to 4-2.

"We have not anywhere near reached our potential," Rea commented. "Sooner or later we will be shooting better than 60 percent. And to top this off, when our star guard returns full strength (referring to Roger Ladner who has been out due to sickness) we are going to be even stronger."

per outing and 17 rebounds per contest. Jerry Alford, a team leader, is pumping in 11 points per game and 11 rebounds.

Nathan Middleton of Picaune compliments the Hattiesburg starters by sinking 12 points and 12 rebounds per game.

Jones, Hinds, and East Central are all on tap for the Wildcats this week to conclude the first semester roundball action.

Friday night the Cats revenge an earlier Monday night loss to the Tulane JV by beating them handily 91-67. Only three days earlier the Maroon and Gold had handed the highly touted Meridian Eagles a 72-71 setback.

"Before long everyone will have the proper respect for us," the second year head coach commented. However, he was quick to comment that this turn-around will take a lot of team effort and determination. "But this is something we will have and soon," Rea predicted.

The Board of Supervisors took up for consideration the matter of the incorporation of a combined water and fire protection district within Hancock County, Mississippi, with the corporate name "Kiln Water and Fire Protection District of Hancock County, Mississippi" as authorized by Chapter 493, Laws of 1973. After a general discussion of the subject, Supervisor Lader offered and moved the adoption of the following Resolution:

A RESOLUTION FINDING AND DETERMINING THAT THE PUBLIC CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY REQUIRE THE CREATION OF "KILN WATER AND FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI" AS A COMBINED WATER AND FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT WITHIN HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF CHAPTER 493, LAWS OF 1973; FINDING AND DETERMINING THAT THE CREATION OF "KILN WATER AND FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI" IS ECONOMICALLY SOUND AND DESIRABLE; DESIGNATING THE CONTINGUOUS AREA OF SUCH DISTRICT; DECLARING THE INTENTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, TO CREATE "KILN WATER AND FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI" AS A COMBINED WATER AND FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT WITHIN HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF CHAPTER 493, LAWS OF 1973, AT A MEETING OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, ON NOVEMBER 17, 1975; DIRECTING THE CLERK TO PUBLISH A CERTIFIED COPY OF THE FULL TEXT OF THIS RESOLUTION IN THE MANNER REQUIRED BY CHAPTER 493, LAWS OF 1973; AND FOR OTHER RELATED PURPOSES.

WHEREAS, on the 20th day of October, 1975, this Board did adopt a certain Resolution declaring the intention of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, to fix a time and place for a public hearing upon the question of the public convenience and necessity of the incorporation of the "Kiln Water and Fire Protection District of Hancock County, Mississippi" and directing publication of the Notice and the purposes for such public hearing, which time was 10:00 o'clock A.M. on November 17, 1975, at the Board of Supervisors Meeting Room in the County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, the term of such notice being set out in full in such Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the said Resolution did direct that such Notice be published as required by law in a newspaper published and of general circulation in the County of the proposed district, and which is a qualified newspaper under the provisions of Chapter 427, Laws of Mississippi of 1940; and

WHEREAS, such Notice, in the form provided for in said Resolution was thereupon duly published by the Clerk of this Board in the Sea Coast Echo, a newspaper published and of general circulation in the County in which the proposed district is located, and which is a qualified newspaper under the provisions of Chapter 427, Laws of Mississippi of 1940, on October 23, October 30, and November 6, 1975, and therefor was published as required by law; and

WHEREAS, the Clerk of this Board has procured from the publishers of the aforesaid newspaper, the customary proof of publication of the Notice of such hearing as provided for in said Resolution, and has filed such proof of publication with this Board;

WHEREAS, this Board finds and determines that all of the requirements of Chapter 493, Laws of 1973, as to the adoption of said Resolution and the giving of notice of the public hearing as provided for therein, have been fully complied with; and

WHEREAS, as provided in said Resolution, and in such Notice, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County duly met on November 17, 1975, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. in the office of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, at the Board of Supervisors Meeting Room in the County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, for the purposes set out in said Resolution and such Notice; and

WHEREAS, this Board finds and determines that no protest or objection has been filed with this Board in opposition to the creation of the proposed "Kiln Water and Fire Protection District of Hancock County, Mississippi"; nor has any party appeared before this Board in opposition to the creation of the proposed "Kiln Water and Fire Protection District of Hancock County, Mississippi"; and

WHEREAS, on November 17, 1975, this Board heard and considered evidence on the question of the public convenience and necessity of the incorporation of the proposed "Kiln Water and Fire Protection District of Hancock County, Mississippi" and whether the creation of such district is economically sound and desirable;

KETCHUM

William Rooney has a house out in Shore Line Park. Willigim is retired and spends his time doing both fresh and salt water fishing. They are as long as they are fish.

Folks don't need expensive tackle to catch fish. You can catch bass and perch on a No. 8 thread with a BB shot as a sinker and a small worm or baited with earth worms or small pieces of shrimp. Throw out line and let go to bottom. When the fish bites tighten on line. That's how my mother taught me to fish years ago. It is still true today.

Junior Bourgeois did it again. He caught beaucoup mullet out front Saturday with a cast net. They were big ones and tasted mighty good when fried.

According to professional casters more fish are caught when using a 10 or 15 foot line than a 25 to 30 weight line. The lighter line causes baits to act better.

Barricading the bayous such as Mills, Black and others down Middle River is being done now. This means that fishing in these bayous will stop until the duck seasons are over.

Give a fisherman something he can use for fishing if you want to make him happy at Christmas.

Bantam books offers Christmas gift sets

From cooking and romance to sports, adventure, science fiction, nature, puzzles, history and bestselling fiction, Bantam Books has a Santa's bag full of 22 different gift-boxed sets of paperback books for the holiday season. In addition, the Bantam list also features the most extensive array of large-format paperback books in Bantam's history, including 10 Peacock Press art books plus an art calendar.

The boxed sets, ranging in price from $3.20 to $13.50, include five new collections created this year: THE COMPLETE JACQUELINE SUSANN: AMERICA'S MOST POPULAR STORYTELLER ($6.70) featuring the late author's four bestsellers; STORIES OF LOVE AND LIFE FOR TEENS (six volumes, $6.10); COOKING WITH BETTY CROCKER ($7.20) featuring five Betty Crocker cookbooks, including the original Betty Crocker's Cookbook; CATHERINE COOKSON'S BELOVED HEROINES ($7.50) with six of the best-selling author's novels; and PHILIP ROTH: MAJOR NOVELS AND STORIES ($7.15) featuring "Portnoy's Complaint," "Letting Go,"

"Goodbye, Columbus" and "My Life as a Man".

Boxed sets also available this year include perennial favorites from bestselling authors, such as EIGHT GREAT WESTERNS BY LOUIS L'AMOUR ($7.60); THE NOVELS OF ALEXANDER SOLZHENITZYN (four volumes, $6.75); THE WORLD OF HERMANN HESSE (six volumes, $9.25); THE ROMANTIC WORLD OF BARBARA CARTLAND (six volumes, $7.50); THE SELECTED WORKS OF KHALIL GIBRAN (seven volumes, $8.75); and THE ACTION PACK: SPORTS AND ADVENTURE ($7.15) with six bestselling titles for young adults.

For history buffs there's also the four-volume set of EYEWITNESS HISTORY OF WORLD WAR II ($5.00) and Winston Churchill's HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH SPEAKING PEOPLE (four volumes, $10.00) and THE SECOND WORLD WAR (six volumes, $13.50).

For cooking enthusiasts, Bantam has the five-volume set of BETTER HOMES AND GARDENS COOKBOOKS ($6.25) and SIX GREAT INTERNATIONAL COOK-

BOOKS ($7.95). For Star "Trekkers" there's STAR TREK: A COLLECTOR'S SET ($7.50) featuring six Star Trek novels by James Blish, and for Doc Savage fans there's THE FANTASTIC ADVENTURES OF DOC SAVAGE ($6.95) with seven Doc Savage novels by Kenneth Robeson.

Other paperbacks collected in boxed sets by Bantam include four volumes of THE BANTAM ALL-COLOR NATURE GUIDES ($7.80); six volumes of BRUCE TEGNER: THE MARTIAL ARTS ($7.50) and six volumes of CROSSWORD PUZZLES FOR EVERYONE ($5.70).

Also available again this year is the two-volume set of the 1975 GUINNESS BOOK OF WORLD RECORDS and the 1975 GUINNESS GAME BOOK ($3.20).

Bantam's assortment of large-format paperbacks and art books for gift-giving includes a first-of-its-kind source and activity book for children, THE WHOLE KIDS CATALOG ($5.95, 224 pp.), created by Peter Car- dozo and designed by Ted Menten. It was published as a Bantam Original on October 15, 1975, and is a selection of eight book clubs, including the Literary Guild.

This unique catalog geared to five to 15-year-olds but sure to delight "kids" of all ages, features 39 exciting chapters on things to find, to do and to make in areas ranging from art, music, history, games, crafts, theater and puppets, to magic, to nature, sports, cooking, carpentry, needlecrafts, gardening and yoga.

"So many delights it's hard to single them out... (It's like taking a voyage out of television land and into childhood and it invites the parent to come along," said THE WASHINGTON STAR in its review of THE WHOLE KIDS CATALOG. And AMERICAN LIBRARIES call it "a real kid-pleaser."

An ideal gift for the astrology buff is Bantam's large-format paperback edition of the internationally bestselling THE COMPLETE ASTROLOGER ($6.95, 256pp.) by Derek and Julia Parker—one of the most comprehensive, graphic and popular books ever published on astrology. Mitchell Beazley Publishers of London (publishers of the Joy of Sex) first released the $16.95 hardcover edition of THE COMPLETE ASTROLOGER in 1971, and it sold more than half a million copies before Bantam published its paperback edition at a cover price of $6.95.

A practical encyclopedia of astrological art and science, THE COMPLETE ASTROLOGER is illustrated with more than 400 charts, photographs and drawings, many in full color. Though central to the book are its easy-to-follow directions for casting, interpreting and making predictions from astrological charts, THE COMPLETE ASTROLOGER also traces the history of astrology, discusses celestial mechanics and influences and provides a Who's Who of Astrology through the ages.

Bantam's trade-size paperback edition of William Manchester's bestselling THE GLORY AND THE DREAM: A Narrative History of America 1932-1972 would make a hefty stocking stuffer. Bantam published this paperback edition of Manchester's critically acclaimed, highly readable popular history in September, 1975, with the same type size and page size as the $20.00 Little, Brown hardcover edition. "There is no fiction that can compete with good, gossipy anecdotal history—the inside story of who said or did what in moments of great tension or crisis... I think you ought to read this history and weep, read it and laugh, read it and don't repeat it," said Anatole Broyard in his review of THE GLORY AND THE DREAM IN THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Also, a recommended treat for the adventurous is THE GREAT ESCAPE.

The list of full-color-large-format paperback art books published under the Peacock Press-Bantam Books imprint includes a very seasonal one—THE CHRISTMAS BOOK EDITED AND WITH AN INTRODUCTION BY David Larkin.
